THE TRUTH PREVAILS.

THE OFFICIAL REPORTS OF THE EXECU-TIVE OFFICERS OF THE OHIO WO. MAN'S RELIFE CORPS RECEIVED.

In Which it Appears That Every Statemant Made by the News-Democrat of the Piqua Convention was Absolute Verity-Some Excellent Reading that Ought to Have Gone into the Little Primer Just Issued Secretly in Canton.

The News DEMOCRAT is just in receipt The News DEMOCRAT is just in receipt of the bound pamphlet edition of the official proceedings of the Woman's Belief Corps of Onlo, in session at Piqua.

Just after the Piqua convention adjourned, the News-Democrat published a full report of the proceedings so far as the same touched the case against Mrs. Ada. same touched the case against Mrs. Ada F. Clark, of Canton. At that time, as will be remembered the Canton Repository, the home organ of Mrs. Clark, made a general denial of all the material allegations of this paper; and published other and contradictory statements on the authority of Mrs. Clark. The News-Democrat said at the time that the official proceeding of the convention, when published, would verify every statement made in this paper. And now we have ished, would verify every statement made in this paper. And now we have the document, which proves that Truth Prevails, and truth is located in the News-Democratoffice. We have this offic al report and invite any person, male or female, who desires to know the facts, to come to this office and inspect this document.

We shall have occasion to refer to this valuable document occasionally in order to verify certain matters, about which the Canton Repository has sought to cast a cloud of doubt, but for the present we call attention to the following preamble call attention to the following preamble and resolution, with the action had thereon, which we find on page 132 and 133 of the official Journal of Proceedings. It will be remembered by the readers of the NEWS-DEMOGRAT that we claimed this resolution was passed after a full debate. Mrs. Clark claimed in the Repository that no such resolution passed, or at least there was never any vote on it. The following is taken from the official report pages 132 and 133:

We call the attention of all interested to the fact that Mrs Sarah J. "I am not acquainted with the strength of the Peoples' party in Indiana, but everyone knows who has at all made a study of politics that the state is a doubtful one, and if the independent party makes an active fight against Harrison there is every research a suppose that he makes an active fight against Harrison there is every reason to suppose that he will suffer defeat in his own home. As to what the Peoples' party may do I cannot tell. There is one point of importance in connection with the subject. I remember meeting General Weaver a day or two after he had been nominated as president by the Omaha convention. He told me then that he had had a letter from Judge Greeham stating that he (the judge) wished Gresham stating that he (the judge) wished them well and pledged him his support. General Weaver offered to read me the letter, but as we were on a crowded stree car and as I did not regard the matter a but as we were on a crowded street one of any importance at the time I replied that it was unnecessary. How to reconcile the statement of Judge Grasham with that of General Weaver is more than I can tell."

JOHN FREEMAN DEAD.

A Prominent Pioneer of Perry Township Gone.

John Freem in of Perry township died at his home yesteaday in the $3rd year of his age. Father Freeman and his excel-lent wife, Mary Scott Freeman who still survives him, have been married for over sixty years, and have lived most of this time on the farm where he died, midway between Canton and Massilton, one mile between Canton and Massillon, one mile north of the state road. They raised a family of two sons and eight daughters, all married; the sons, Orrin and John S. Freeman both live on farms in Perry township, the daughters mostly live in Stark county, but some have gone far west. Father Freeman and wife were among the pioneer Baptists of this region, both members of said church in Canton, and several of their children are the same. No one that knew John Freeman but respected him as a very excellent, inrespected him as a very excellent, industrious, christian citizen, his word was always as good as his bond, and when his time to depart came, he died in peace and in full assurance of life beyond. Thus the old pioneers are passing away. The funeral will take place from the old home atead tomorrow, Sunday at 2 o'clock, interment in Westlawn cemetery.

OLD PENNSYLVANIANS

ASSEMBLED IN LARGE NUMBERS FOR THEIR ANNUAL PICNIC.

A General Good Time Being Experienced at the Fair Grounds Today-A Big Feast and Interesting Literary Programme.

The Pennsylvania Society held its annual pienic at the Fair Grounds today. Many hundreds of people, old and young, participated in the happy event. This society is one of the largest in Stark county and consists of nearly one thousand active members. The only requirement of a member is that he or she be of Pennsylvania birth or a lineal descendent of a native of that State. Picnics are held annually, and the Fair Grounds has been their meeting place for a number of years past. R. A. Cassidy is president, S. S. Geib, vice president, and M. M. Herbst, secretary and treasurer. Sessions are held on the third Saturday in August of each year.

The meeting was called to order this afternoon by President Cassidy. In his remarks of introduction he referred to the growth of the society and related inthe growth of the society and related incidents concerning prominent Pennsylvanians who lived in this county many years ago. This address was quite short in duration. Mayor Blake who was present was also called upon, and he delivered a short speech in which he congratulated the members of the society upon the large meeting in progress and the interest which they evinced in thus banding together. Mr. Archie McGregor spoke of the old schools which were in session in this county several decades ago, His remarks were quite lengthy and were full of interests. Mr. John Danner read an excellent paper on early times and the excellent paper on early times and the poverty and privations of some of the settlers who came here from Pennsylvasettlers who came here from Pennsylva-nia. His essay was wide in scope and was of a biographical nature. Mr. John Laird's paper on the early iron industry was es-pecially appreciated. It contained many points of interest relating to the iron in-dustry fifty years ago. He spoke of the manufactures in metal at that time and traced the progress in this work up to the present day. An election of officers was also held after the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the sccre-tary. The dining ball tables on the grounds were fairly laden down with eatables and the best kind of a time was

"It is necessary to Republican success," he said, "that we should have a central point from which to conduct the campaign in the west. In the conduct the campaign in the west. Bishop Horstmann Speaks.

The indomitable real of Massillon Catholics has added another temple of worship to the long list of churches which they so characteristically maintain, that in beauty of architectural design and elegant symmetry can hardly be equalled in this part of the state. Its formal dedication took place yesterday morning with thousands of Catholics in attendance.

The new building is located between Cherry and Mill streets in the north end. The site was first purchased March 11, 1839, by several Catholic societies who paid some thing like $4.0 for the location. A small structure was erected; hereon in 1842, but it was destroyed by fire in 1852. In the year following it was rebuilt and considerably enlarged. At about the same time Father Laiserected as facilities demanded for their children, the present same time Father Laiserected as facilities demanded for their children, the present parochial school which stands to the west of the building. The most reverend Father Lais's death in 1875 caused Father Koehn to take the pastorate, and under his charge the pres-pastorate, and under his charge the present building was constructed.

The new building was commenced in 1875 and completed just five years later. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Toebbe of Covington laid the corner stone, Bishop Gilmour, now deceased, assisting in the ceremony. The congregation of St. Mary's German Catholic church today numbers about four bundred of Massillon's most prominent and wealthy families. The five hundred or more children in the parochial school are under the careful instruction of seven lay teachers. This pedagogic institution is a most spacious one, and it is adjoined by a handsome chapel with a seating capacity of 600.

The new church measures 185 feet in length and 85 feet in width. The heighth to the apex of the roof is 94 feet. Fourto the apex of the roof is 94 feet. Four-teen cut bronze stone pillars support this handsome canopy. The style of architecture is gothic, and the costly stain-ed glass windows adorning the edifice add much of beauty and splendor. A high altar used for the first time during the jubilee yesterday, occupies the sanctuary. The frescoing throughout is of the finest and most elaborate design. The exterior is of Massillon sandstone. A sort of park envirous the two buildings and shows conclusively that besides the worship of conclusively that besides the worship of God the congregation delights in beautiful temporal surroundings. The interior of the church yesterday presented a most magnificent appearance Hundreds of pretty flowers and myriad of tropical plants, harmonized beautifully and contrastingly with the activity of the people present. The chancel was a pro-fusion of stalks and flowers of rare and variagated colors and forms. The decorations and general surroundings were conducive to exclamations of delight and satisfaction.

The ceremony of blessing or dedicating the church took place at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Bishop I, Horstman of Cleve-iand was present, and assisted by the clergy the service was proceeded with. A solemn jubilee high mass was sung. Thousands of persons filled the grand auditorium. The services were rather shot and impressive. Bishop Horstmann spoke of the z-al which prompted the erection of such a commodius church building and of the beautiful surrounds ings. Several other short addresses were made by clergy present. The confirmation services in the afternoon constituted the largest assemblag of the day. The various Catholic societie met at their respective halls at 1 o'clock, after visiting commanderies had been re-ceived, and a column of march was form-ed as follows: DIVISION NO. 1.

Strange Noises Heard About the House Where the Great Tragedy Took Place-The Shutters Rattle and All Kinds of Outlandish and U sarthly Sounds Disturb the Repose of Mrs. McCurdy.

Rumors are now affect in the northern

Rumors are now affort in the northern part of the city that furnish plenty of material for gossil, and that have wrought up the more superstitious element of society to a high inteh of mental excitement. It is said that the ghost of John W. McCurday, the plast rer, who came to his death by his two hand under such sensational circumstates as some months ago, is not content to remain upon the other shore but that he has re-crossed the great Stygian riven to harrass mortals on other shore but that he has re-crossed the great Stygian riven to harrass mortals on earth. As the report goes he makes visits nightly to his old home at the north end of Shorb street where he carries on in a most weird and soul racking fashion. The authority for the rumors is none other than the widow of the deceased, who it will be remembered was the cause of the great tragedy and who escaped death at the hands of her husband only because her head was so hard that the because her head was so bard that the bullet from his revolver flattened out of bullet from his revolver flattened out on her skull. She now lives at the house where the trouble occurred with no other person about but her child and she declares that the place is haunted. She avers that peculiar and horrible noises abound around the place with no visible cause. The doors creak, rappings, are heard, footsteps sound upon the floors and other weird phenomena take place that are sufficient to strike terror into the soul. Not only this but she declares that she has seen the ghost of declares that she has seen the ghost of her departed husband. The phantom appears at the dead of night, according to ber story, and peers through the window, rattles the shutters and otherwise barrasses ber. Mrs. McCurdy reports that these terrible experiences are almost nightly in occurrence and so wrought up has she become over the matter that it is almost impossible for her to sleep at all. Whether John McCurdy's ghost doe come back to haunt and terrorize his former wife or whether the experiences are simply the result of strong mental action induced by the thoughts of what has gone before and by the surroundings, the NEWS DEMOCRAT will not venture to assert, but certain it is that Mrs. McCurdy has been highly wrought up over the has been highly wrought up over the affair and there are many of the more superstitious in the neighborhood who would almost rather die than vanture in

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." A quiet wedding took place Saturday evening, the 13th of August at the resi-dence of the officiating minister, Rev Quipp, at No. 103 East Fifth street, Canton. After the ceremony they re-turnened to their future home, near Louisville, Ohio.

The Epidemic of Flux.

Last summer the finx raged here to a fearful extent. About five miles north of here at the Whiteside grave yard there were five victims of this dreadful disease buried in one day. The doctors could do nothing with the disease. When my family were taken, I went to Walter Brothers, of Waltersburg, and told them the situation. They said, give Chamberlain'r Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. edy; that they had sent out several bundred bottles into the infected district and "every day we hear how the medicine is curing them. So far we have not heard of its failing in one instance." I went to giving it and could soon see the good effects and a cure was the result. Anyone in doubt about these facts may write to me.—L. C.
